Groton 24 May 1834

Dear Anne

I have made search, but have been unable to find Mr. Collins letter. I remember to have given it to Mrs. Chapman. Was it ever returned to me? I have not recollection of seeing it afterwards. At any rate I cannot find it. I regret it, but as C is on the spot, he can supply the defficiency. With respect to other letters, I have none that would be of use to you. Yesterday was one of the fine days in the year when we did not send to the P Office, so that your letter is but just received. I shall examine further, & if any thing is found that I think may be of use, it shall be sent.

Preparations are making for the fair - the gentlemen are here & have voted to furnish the refreshments for the female sac. as much as may be wanted. I think something will be done.

Miss Stratton has left. Mary is duly installed in her place - We are expecting you to join us after the meeting as per agreement.

Yours Truly A Farnsworth
